Houston, TX – June 8, 2005 – Southern Petroleum Laboratories, Inc. ("SPL") is pleased to announce that it has expanded its local service in the Southeast with the opening of the Greater Atlanta Service Center.

Clients will now have access to a nationally certified network in forty-six states and still receive the personalized project management and courier services from the SPL Greater Atlanta Service Center. SPL will continue to provide quality service and competitive pricing.

SPL is a privately held corporation that has provided quality analytical service for over sixty years to the oil, gas and petrochemical industries. We are one of the "Top Ten" laboratory networks in the United States and hold a Women's Business Enterprise certificate (WBE). Our full-service environmental and hydrocarbon analytical laboratories are located in Houston, Texas, Lafayette, Louisiana, and Traverse City, Michigan. SPL participates in over fifty different lab programs within the United States and South America, using state of the art equipment to perform groundwater testing, metals analysis, and analysis of refinery gasses, sulfur compounds and petroleum fingerprinting.
